A cordial welcome will be given to all who will attend upon these means of grace-

INCENDIARY ATTEMPTS. -Two attempts, one about nine o'clock last night, the other about half past five this morning, were made to set fire to the frame shanty on the northeast corher of Princess and Columbus streets. Fortunately both efforts were unsuccessful, the first being discovered and extinguished by Mr Joyce, the last by Justice Moore, and a negro man, whose name we have not learned. The incendiaries are suspected, and the police are on their track.

MISTAKE. - The paragraph headed "Accident at the Aqueduct Bridge," in yesterday's Gazette, was inserted by mistake; -- the true account of the accident, which happened at Rock Creek bridge, between Washington and | had "axes to grind," the better to effect their Georgetown, being contained in the article, im- aims and designs, which were last night fully mediately following, headed "Ejectment."-The "duplication" of the accident was not observed until too late for correction.

SALE OF "MATTAPONI."-This fine estate, situated upon Mattaponi Branch, about twoand a-half miles from Nottingham and eight from Marlboro', was sold on yesterday by Daniel Clarke, Esq., Trustee. The property is improv ed by a brick mansion, brick stables, and numerous outbuildings, erected by the late Robert W. Bowie, and has also upon it a fine Mill Seat. It contains about 320 acres, and after some very spirited bidding, was knocked down to William B. Berry, at $50 per acre. - Prince Georgian.

RAILROAD MEETINGS .- It will be seen by the advertisements that the stockholders of the Orange and Alexandria, and Manassas Gap Railroads, are to meet, in this place, on the 3d day of April next. We hope to see many of our old friends in old Alexandria, on that occasion.

THE MARKET, this morning, was only tolerably supplied with country produce .-We have no change to notice in the prices of meats and vegetables. Good butter 35 cts. -eggs 23 a 25 cts. But few fresh fish are as yet brought to market.

NUISANCE TO BE ABATED. - The fram shanty erected during the war, upon the lot of Mrs. Fitzhugh, on the corner of Princess and Columbus streets, has been determined a nuisance by the residents of that locality, and ordered to be removed by the Superintendent of Police.

STEAMER DETAINED. - The steamer Express. for Baltimore and the River Landings, was detained here until twelve o'clock to-day, in consequence of injuring one of her wheels by contact with the wharf at pier No. 6, to repair which the lost time was required.

FISH TOWN .- Fish Town is beginning to put on its Spring appearance, though the arrivals there, up to this time, have been few, consisting only of bunch fish from the shores of Jos. Cawood and Capt. Guy.

FATAL ACCIDENT. - Capt. T. Bohannan, of Occoquan, Va., was killed on the 22nd ult., by the falling of a mast upon him, whilst he was engaged in fixing the mast in a boat. ----

Sour House. - No contributions have been made to the Soup House since our last report. It is thought that the is-ue of soup will cease after Tuesday, the 5th instant.

HEN HOUSE ROBBED: - The hen house of Mr. William Stonnill, who lives on the Poors House lane, was robbed last night of all its SHERIFF'S SALE .- The long boat "George and Martha" was sold at a Sheriff's sale today to D. Williamson, for $400.

COUNTY COURT. The March term of the County Court for this county commences on FALSE ALARM. - There was a false alarm of fire last night about ten o'clock.

POLICE REPORT-MAYOR'S OFFICE. - There

ere no cases worth reporting at the Mayor's Office this morning. MAGISTRATES' OFFICE. - Geo. Ellis, a negro boy, for assaulting Mrs. Ann Brooks, was discharged, at plaintiffs cost. An old negro woman, named aunt Lizzie, charged with stealing a shawl from Ella Summers, was discharged.

WASHINGTON ITEMS. - Mrs. J. F. Hodgson,

Matron of the Washington Asylum, died yes-St. Patrick's Day is to be celebrated by the Hibernian Society. Forrest has completed a successful theatrical

[REPORTED FOR THE GAZETTE.] THE LOYAL LEAGUE—UNSUCCESSFUL FLANK MOVEMENT-THE COLORED ELEMENT-NOMINATIONS-SPEECHES, &c.,

There was a very "spicy" gathering of the "Loyal League," at Lyceum Hall, last night, our account of which is necessarily abridged, the first business transacted being the adoption of a resolution, whereby all "outsiders" were very unceremoniously excluded from any participation whatever in the proceedings of the "Happy Family."

There were present, when the meeting organized, about twenty whites and forty or fifty blacks, five spectators, and four small boys.

The proceedings, preliminary to the organization, were enlivened, and the Spirits somewhat startled, yet awed, by a distich, sung in a stentorian voice, by one of her Britanic Majesty's former subjects, who just dropped in by accident to see what was going on.

Upon assuming the chair, and announcing that the realing of the minutes of the last meeting would be omitted because they were not on hand, the President, Mr. Josiah Millard, asked the pleasure of the meeting, and immediately-

Mr. Tucker, (Geo.), from Vermont, moved that all those present, who were not "members," or did not intend becoming "members," be requested to retire; which motion being put, was declared carried, Messrs. Penn, Hunter, and one or two others voting in the negative; the colored element voting in the affirmative.

This flank movement having been successfully effected, the outsiders were politely re quested to leave, which they accordingly did in good order. Doorkeepers were then appointed. the doors shut and fastened, and here, as "in duty bound," our report should close, but through various spiritual mediums, we are enabled to give the proceedings of the "secret" session, and here's where "the flankers were outflanked.'

Notwithstanding "the association" unani mously agreed, at a previous meeting, not to have any candidates at the approaching municipal election, and not to vote either, it now appears that those proceedings were only intended as a blind, to permit certain gentlemen, who developed, and here we insert the proceedings, as received from one of our "mediums" without anything extenuating, or setting down aught in malice. Here it is verbatim:

"The gentleman from Vermont then proposed to go into an election for Mayor and other officers of this Corporation, declaring that no doubt the colored friends had, or would have, a vote by that time under the 'Force bill.

"Mr. McKenzie thought it too premature to pursue such a course, as likewise undignified SUPERIOR and unbecoming to take such a step. "Mr. Hunter said he thought the resolutions from Vermont entirely out of order, inasmuch as the association had declared with unanimity that they would run no ticket. "Messrs. Berkley, Davy, Harmon, Hunnicutt, and others, who knew the colored people had and would not have a have a vote by the first Tuesday in March, sustained Messrs. McKenzie and Hunter in their views.

"But such was the desire of Vermont and the colored element to see themselves voters, that no appeal to their sense (if they had any) or judgment, or remonstrations on the part of the only respectable ferrets, could avail, and they proceeded to ballot. First in order, was the Mayor. Mr. Geo. Hewes was put in nomination, as likewise Mr. Tucker. The thing having been cut and dried beforehand, and it was, by many, presumed in the dark, when those who desired to express their choice for Mr. Hewes were called upon to indicate it by stand ing, all the whites arose except Mr. Hawxhurst, from New York, and when the call was made for Mr. T.'s friends, Mr. H. and the negroes rose en masse, demonstrating to the white ferrets, (as they expressed themselves after the adjournment,) that negroes were no more fit to vote as a mass than mules.

"In other nominations it was about the same thing, the negroes pulling against the whites with a determination and tenacity only equalled by their ignorance, as stated by the other side.

"The whole thing ended in a withdrawal of the respectable white members from the meeting and Association; and the few native born, or Virginia ferrets, I opine, will forever hereafter entertain a disgust for Yankee tricksters and politicians, as likewise remember that ne-groes are disqualified for voting. The meeting and its results were a fizzle, but good will no doubt grow out of it, as many were made wise, and sorry "they went thar," and will never go and Measurer of Wood and Bark; two Measur-

It does not require very keen optics to perceive that this "medium" is somewhat disgruntled, and that his report is a little biassed, but he makes one very important announcement, viz: that the "Union Republican Assoeiation of Alexandria"!! has "gone up," and that it is numbered with the things that have been-for the present, at least.

We learn from another source that the secreey of the meeting was most unceremoniously interrupted by the entrance, sans ceremonie, and locks and bolts, to the contrary, notwithstanding, of the aforementioned Britisher, who was with some difficulty prevailed upon to retire, while the business was proceeded with: further, that at one time there was great fear expressed lest the gas should be cut off, and a committee was appointed to watch the metre.

A "special correspondent on the spot" informs us that Mr. Tucker in the course of some remarks, asserted boldly that he was "not afraid of rebels, scallawags or newspapers!' although he stated before the famous Reconstruction Committee of Congress, that he, with others of his kind, would have to leave the State as soon as the military power was withdrawn. "Tempora mutantur," &c. The "spe cial" also informs us that Mr. McKenzie predieted that if the association persisted in making nominations the nominees would not receive one hundred votes, to which Mr. Hawxhurs demurred, but said that even if they did not, the example set was a good one and its effect would be felt throughout the whole States therefore the experiment was worth trying.

R. D. Beckly, (col.) was for permitting the whites to have it all to themselves this time, but stated that if the colored element were allowed a chance, they would roll up eight hundred votes! One Robinson, (col.) was anxious to know if some colored men could not be put in the field. Another colored "gemman," namedWatson, was anxious that his race should be informed, and suggested that notices of meetings, &c., when they were always at home. Perpener, (col.) endorsed the suggestions of his friend Watson.

Mr. Hawkhurst congratulated his colored friends upon their desire to acquire knowledge, and urged upon them the necessity of attending the meetings of the association.

The nominations were made, Mr. Penn declining the nomination for Superintendent of Gas, because he did not understand anything about gas, and would not be Clerk of the Market. because he did not know anything about but ter. His objections to being Mayor were not stated. Messrs. Willoughby and Bell, would have nothing. O. C. Whittlesey was named for collector, but was ruled out, as not being a member. S. N. Garwood declined everything. The nominations, as far as could be remembered by the "special," were: For Mayor, Geo. Tucker; Auditor, James A. Stoutenburgh; Superintendent of Gas, W. W. White; Inspector of Spirits, I. Lovejoy; Collectors, G. C. Hewes and Wm. Bushby; Attorney, S. F. Beach; Surveyor, R. Bell, jr.; Assessors, P. G. Henderson and Thomas Davy; Measurers of Lumber, W. R. Howard and Theo. Teed; Superintendent of Police, T. I. Edelin; Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, Thos. Henley. Among the nominations for Aldermen and Councilmen were Lewis McKenzie, J. T.

Armstrong, A. C. Harmon and Samel Baker. The meeting adjourned till Monday night, but a motion was carried to have a grand mass meeting to night.
